BARNUM VICTOR.

He Captures the Happy-New-Year Handicap at Canton.

Jockey McCarthy Wins the First Race of 1889.

Clatter, Silver Star and Sweetie Take First Money.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
RACE TRACK, CLIFTON, N. J., Jan. 1.—If the weather to-day is to be taken as an augury for the racing of 1889, then a most brilliant year is promised. The track was surface dry, but very deep and bad in places, especially in front of the stand.

The attendance, while not as large as on Christmas, was very large and apparently with plenty of money, judged by the betting.

There was much interest among the jockeys as to which would win the first race in 1889. The honor was somewhat easily won by Andy McCarthy, who not only won the first race but was No. 1 on the cards.

During the afternoon the Association paid the money promised to the two most successful jockeys at Clifton and Brighton in 1888. George Taylor getting $1,000, and W. Whyburn $500. The Association also made a cash present of $50 to each of the working reporters.

There was also a pleasing change on the "Call to the Post," a contest being substituted for the bugle, and "Coming Through the Rye," "Last Rose of Summer" and "Yankee Doodle" were given.

Sweetie's winning of the third race was a great surprise, but few bets having been made. Barnum's winning of the big race afforded much pleasure to the crowd, and the old horse was loudly cheered.

AT GUTTENBURG'S TRACK.

Frank Mullins, Cabinet, Fenelon and Louise the victors.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
NORTH HUDSON DRIVING PARK, N. J., Jan. 1.—A good card attracted a big crowd to the Guttenburg course to-day. The gathering was composed of the usual holiday element, and they made the "bookies" hustle. The track was in bad condition and deep in mud. A new starter,

Mr. Butler, officiated to-day, assisted by Mr. Carr.

The starting was even worse to-day than it has been. Mr. Butler, after keeping the horses at the post for almost an hour in the first race, handed the flag to Mr. Carr in disgust.

He, however, was about as good as usual, and the crowd showed their feeling by stamping and shouting.

Butler and Carr then tried it together, but with no better results, and complimentary remarks concerning their ability floated through the stand.

indulgence in expressions of a congratulatory nature preceded a general stampede to the City Hall, where Father Abram was bidding farewell to his ungrateful children.

Among those who were present to welcome the new officials were:

Congressmen Spolito and Cockran, Civil Justice, Monell, Clancy, Corbett, Levy, Police Justice, Wolfe, Wu, H. Dolbe, James F. Baker, ex-Senator Plunkitt, D. F. McMahon, John B. Sexton, Col. T. A. Hamilton, Aldermen R. J. Sullivan and Patrick Hyer, Bernard F. Martin, Bernard Timney, Dr. J. H. Demarest, the Post-Geographer, Mayor's Chief Clerk T. C. T. Crain, Actor Gus Phillips, Henry St. James, Gunder K. Ackerman, ex-Assemblyman John B. McGoldrick, John Gassan, Joseph S. Meeks, and James Fitzpatrick.

President Bayles, of the Board of Health; Aqueduct Commissioner, Spencer, Capt. Twomey, School Commissioner, Schmitt, Judge Gorman, Col. W. R. W. Chambers, Commissioner, Robb, ex-Aldermen Foley and Corrigan, ex-Coleman Hall; Thos. E. Platt, Assistant Corporation Counsel Dean, Charles Weber, Charles N. O'Connell, P. Moriarty, ex-Tombs Warder, William Johnson, Joseph Stiner, John F. Carroll, Hugh O'Connell, F. B. Thurber, Col. John Cochran, J. J. O'Donohue, Frank Fox, Recorder Smyth, Commissioner Tom Brennan, James J. Neelan, R. H. Coleman, Inspectors Sicora, Byrnes and Williams, Register Slewin, County Clerk Reilly and Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry.

In the County Clerk's private office, Mr. Reilly found a mammoth floral chair inscribed with the figures "119,633," representing the phenomenal vote which was cast for him, and the words, "Our Scholastic."

A handsome bouquet of roses was lying on Sheriff Flack's desk.

Everybody in the Sheriff's office will be compelled to turn over a new leaf, for an entire new set of books has been provided, the old ones having been taken to Mayor Grant's office on the top floor of the Potter Building, where his late Under-Sheriff, John B. Sexton, will settle up the business of the late Sheriff.

This will require a year at least, at the end of which time Mr. Sexton will probably drop to a nice Commissioner.

Sheriff Flack has made but few changes, having reapportioned all of Sheriff Grant's deputies, excepting James W. Wild, James Young, Patrick Fitzgerald and Daniel Hanly, elected Coroner. He has also appointed as new deputies, Michael Whalen and Daniel Surley, the latter being assigned to duty at Ludlow Street Jail.

Order of Arrest Clerk Bernard F. Martin and Warden James F. Keating, of Ludlow Street Jail, were appointed.

The former has been appointed all of the attaches of his department. Deputies David McGonigle, Philip A. Walsh, Thomas F. Crawford and Joseph H. Young and Clerk Thomas Moore.

County Clerk Reilly, true to his promise, has made few changes in his office.

P. Scully, a bookkeeper, residing in the Sixth Assembly District, has been appointed Deputy Clerk and the other attaches of the office have been reappointed, with the exception of Researcher James Putnam, Henry Leysner and Joseph Putnam, Docket Clerk John Kenny, George Fitzgerald, Charles F. Willis and Louis Low.

All of the vacancies thus created may not be filled, for the apportionment for the Search Department was cut down $4,000 this year.

The guaranty title companies are taking away much of the business of the office, and consequently reducing its revenue and the necessity for extra assistance in the search department.

MACKAY MISSING.

The Young Comedian Mysteriously Disappears.

John A. Mackay, the comedian, has disappeared, or so it was reported in dramatic circles last night and this morning. He is billed to appear in the Orange Opera-House to-night in Leonard Grover's new play, "A Noble Son," under the management of Manager Berlin.

In his place he is expected to make the hit of his life, and has been studying very hard of late to make himself perfect in his part.

His friends, or at least those of them who believe that he has really disappeared, think that his mind has become affected under the severe mental strain, and that he has wandered away while temporarily insane.

They expect that he will turn up again, either in a hospital, or that he has not already done so—do himself some injury.

The clerk of the Hoffman House said to an Evening World reporter this morning:

"I do not recall that I have seen him in town, but he was not here last night. He would be just the kind of man to commit suicide, I think, because he was always more or less erratic in his conduct."

It was also said this morning that Mr. Berlin had received a brief note from the comedian, which read substantially as follows:

"Good-by, old fellow, I am crazy, and am going to the asylum. If you never see me again remember I have always done the best I could for you."

Mr. Berlin called at Police Headquarters this morning, and confirmed the story of his having received the note from his star.

He requested Inspector Williams to send out a general alarm, notifying the police to look out for the missing man, which was done. Mr. Berlin seemed to believe that Mr. Mackay's mind had become affected by his hard study, and that he wandered off, not knowing where he was going.

Mr. Berlin told the Inspector that he had heard of Mackay's disappearance from a Brooklyn looking for him this morning, but that he was not and had not been there for twenty-four hours.

His trunks were ready, packed to be sent out to Orange, N. Y.

There are many people who do not believe that Mackay has disappeared.

Among them is A. F. Dunlap, the theatrical press agent.

The reporter found that gentleman in his chambers at 127 Broadway, this morning. He languidly told the reporter that he had not seen Mackay for some time, and that he was not and had not been there for twenty-four hours.

"Mackay is a practical joker, as every friend of his knows, and I guess this is only another of his little jokes, played on the public. It is true, though, that he has been studying very hard lately, and he expects to make the success of his life in his new play."

"When did you see him last?" asked the reporter.

"At 6 o'clock last night I was drinking with him in Pickwick Tavern, adjoining the Bijou Opera-House on Broadway. He was in a jovial humor, and almost the last thing he said to me was that he intended to go to his mother's house in Brooklyn to sleep last
